

India's First Green Business School Universal Business School

Contact: Tanisha Chauhan

Email: tanishachauhan7600@gmail.com

https://postlister.com/services/other-services/india-s-first-green-business-school-universal-business-school-sets-global_i13490

Address:

Sion (East), Mumbai – 400 022, India, Mumbai

Price:

Check with seller

Universal Business School (School of Management) the first Green B-School, integrates sustainable principles into its industry-focused management programs. Specializing in business administration, it offers BBA, MBA, and Global Management Programs while fostering global partnerships and real-world application projects. Future leaders who strike a balance between profit and the environment are being shaped by Universal Business School's innovative integration of sustainability with state-of-the-art guidance, energy-efficient technology, and a campus that prioritises nature. With the recent collaboration of LTIMindtree for School of AI & Future Technologies, all learners can opt for interdisciplinary programs to fast-track students along their career paths, gearing them up to work in the fast-influencing AI sector. Beyond the School of Management, the other schools are widening their scope through academic partnerships with RUBIKA, the premier French school of design, and SoundideaZ Academy, the top AI-driven sound engineering institution in India. This provides education of the best standards of the world, designed by students themselves in a synergy of creativity and technological acumen. Dr. Simon Mak, an esteemed MIT alumnus and a strategist at the Silicon Valley, has been taken on board as Vice-Chancellor. He aims to develop Indian education to be one of the best in the world and give students the ability to access international best practices and knowledge relevant to industries. <https://uttarakhandnewswire.in/indias-first-green-business-school-universal-business->

[illegible]