My greatest trip began with a visit to the Turkish Airlines Miami Office which added a memorable touch to the trip planning process. The office, which was in the heart of the city, provided both professional service and genuine warmth. When I first entered, I was welcomed by a calm atmosphere and warm smiles, which set the tone for the journey that was ahead. The high point, though, was the excitement that developed in that office. I left feeling inspired and eager for adventure after being surrounded by travel posters and learning about locations across the globe. From the moment I made the reservation at the Miami office until I boarded the aircraft, the entire trip was seamless and exceptional.
