Some textures just speak to you. The moment you see Timber Ledgestone, you can almost hear the fire crackling. It's that classic cabin-in-the-woods feeling — raw, warm, and welcoming—but elevated with rich detail and Stone Selex's signature craftsmanship.

The Timber Ledgestone collection offers everything you love about natural stone, but in a sleek stone veneer format that's easier to install and lighter on your walls. The pieces are cut thin, shaped to interlock beautifully, and textured to look like they've been weathered by time.

Thinking about a fireplace refacing project? This is the material that brings it all together. A ledgestone fireplace instantly becomes the heart of your living space — not just a heat source, but a true feature. Whether you're working with an old brick surround or a bare drywall face, Timber Ledgestone gives you the look of traditional masonry without the heavy materials or full construction timeline.

Pair it with a reclaimed wood mantel for that perfect contrast — rough stone beneath smooth, weathered wood — or go modern with black metal trim and clean edges. The mix of tones in the Timber palette — rich greys, browns, and taupes — means it works equally well with rustic cottage vibes or polished, contemporary finishes.

It's also ideal for creating a consistent feel throughout your home. Wrap a stone fireplace, then extend the same ledgestone along a stairwell or a feature wall to tie the design
