Traveling through Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport (DTW) with Frontier Airlines? Understanding your terminal experience is key to a smooth journey. If you're flying with Frontier, you'll be using the frontier terminal DTW, also known as the Evans Terminal.

Where Is Frontier Airlines at DTW?

Frontier Airlines operates from the Evans Terminal at DTW, which is separate from the McNamara Terminal (used by Delta). The Evans Terminal is well-equipped to handle domestic and international flights, offering passengers a straightforward and efficient experience.

Check-In and Security

Once you arrive at the head to the Frontier check-in counters or use the self-service kiosks for quick processing. It's recommended to check in online beforehand to save time and avoid any extra fees.

Security checkpoints are generally smooth, but arriving at least two hours before your flight is always a safe bet—especially during holidays or peak travel hours.
