Shaif Gluco Chem specializes in high-quality brown rice protein powder designed to serve both food and feed industries with exceptional nutritional performance. Our rice protein concentrates, derived from whole-grain brown rice, are produced under rigorous quality controls to deliver purity and functionality. For animal nutrition, our feed-grade concentrates boast a protein content of 50–65%, supporting optimal growth and development, while our food-grade variants deliver 70–80% protein for use in protein bars, shakes, bakery goods, and functional beverages. Naturally free from gluten, dairy, soy, and nuts, this hypoallergenic protein source is easily digestible and perfectly suited for sensitive diets and clean-label formulations. To accommodate diverse processing needs and product textures, Shaif Gluco Chem offers a range of mesh sizes from 100 to 1,000. Compliant with international organic standards and verified non-GMO, our brown rice protein powder is available in private-label configurations or bulk shipments, complete with technical support to streamline incorporation into your production line. Choose Shaif Gluco Chem for a reliable, versatile, and health-focused protein solution.
