Attestation of documents is a mandatory procedure in the process of certification of various types of documents, and documents attested can be both educational certificates, and professional licenses, and personal identification records, if a person intends to use them in another country.

Documents attestation process forms several phases, which starts at the local notary and is followed by state levels and ending up with national levels and finally the embassy or consulate of the country of destination. All the three levels of attestation are useful in ensuring that the document in question is genuine and meets the legal requirement of the country to which it will be used.
