Nowadays, business owners might choose a white-label Binance clone script because it's faster and more cost-efficient to make a cryptocurrency exchange. The script provides an already-built, adaptable platform that the business owner can modify to meet their requirements. This saves time and money over constructing a platform from scratch. Several companies offer ready-to-use scripts similar to bitcoin exchanges like Binance. Among that, Hivelance Binance clone script is packed with essential features like Match Engine, Spot trading, Margin trading, P2P and OTC, etc.
